

ABOUT

COMMUNITY INVOLVEMENT

Foulston Siefkin attorneys have been leaders in various philanthropic endeavors for over 100 years. We are dedicated to improving the communities where we work and live. Our attorneys actively give back by volunteering time and lending financial support to a range of charitable organizations. Many Foulston attorneys serve as officers, directors and trustees of civic, charitable, educational and professional organizations that are committed to enhancing our community. Our involvement is diverse and widespread with attorneys helping numerous charitable organizations in areas such as improved healthcare, educational opportunities, youth programs and community outreach. Organizations where our attorneys serve in volunteer leadership roles include:
